

What heritage means to me

Draw yourself in the middle.

Draw or write things around you, to show:

- something you like doing;
- something that represents who you are;
- something that represents where you live;
- something that is important to your family.

